COLD IN EUROPE.

Shops of Berlin Deserted, and All the Streams Frozen.

Horrible Stories of Death and Suffering in the Balkans.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—The cold throughout Europe continues to be intense. In this city the cold is very severe, being twenty-three Reaumur. The bodies of three persons who had been frozen to death were found in the streets to-day. Navigation is being suspended on the Elbe, and Hamburg ship-owners have ordered their vessels to proceed to other ports, steamers from South America being sent to Bremerhaven.

Intensely cold weather prevails throughout Brandenburg and East Prussia. All the streams are frozen. In this city all skating parties and ice festivals have been given up on account of the great discomfort attending them. The shops are deserted and most of the cabmen have left their stands. The poor of Prussian cities are suffering keenly. The depression of trade has left tens of thousands unemployed who in the dull days of former seasons have had work. In Berlin alone Wilhelm Liebknecht says more than 100,000 men can find no employment.

Horrible stories come from the remote regions of Europe, and especially the Balkans of death and suffering caused by the severity of the winter. In Serbia the wolves have abandoned the forests and prowled about the towns and villages in search of prey. A young girl was devoured by wolves in the suburbs of Belgrade, and the animals made fiercer than ever by hunger, have actually appeared in the streets of the city. In Montenegro packs of wolves have attempted to enter the sheep folds, refusing to be driven back by the peasants.

Dispatches from Russia state that there is great suffering in the provinces, where the famine prevailed last year, the people having been too much weakened by their former sufferings to make sufficient provision of food and fuel for the winter. In Russia, also, the wild animals, made desperate by hunger and cold, have invaded the villages and devoured both human beings and domestic animals.

NEIGHBORING COUNTY NEWS.

CALDWELL COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Banner.] Princeton again has the electric light fever. This time Eugene Young, who by the way is one of our most enterprising men, is at work at the project.

Mrs. Eliza Perry, formerly of this county, died at her home near Fulton last Sunday night very suddenly. Her remains were brought here Monday and buried Tuesday at the family burying ground about five miles north of town. Mrs. Perry was about 65 years of age.

James Moore residing near Carleton Springs was robbed a short time since of two hundred and fifty dollars. Mr. Moore went to assist one of his neighbors to kill his pork, and was accompanied by his wife, leaving no one at home. On their return, late in the afternoon, they found that the dwelling had been forcibly entered, and everything in their private chamber in a state of confusion. On examination Mr. Moore found that he had been robbed of the above named sum. No clue to the robbery has as yet been obtained.

A number of Homeopathic physicians met here yesterday and organized a Western Kentucky Homeopathic Society. Dr. Young, of Hopkinsville, was elected President, and Dr. Anderson, of Princeton, Secretary. About twenty physicians applied for membership and a safe organization was effected.

HOPKINS COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Hustler.] Will Wiley, a negro from Earlington, was brought to town a few days since and placed in jail for 20 days and with a $50 fine hanging over him. He pulled a pistol on a man, made him give up a hat and was making off with the plunder when caught. He may perhaps have to serve a term in the penitentiary for highway robbery. Debra Nones.

It was a case of heart-failure. He was about 55 years old, and was well-known to many of our readers as a genial whole-souled fellow.

Charles Mash and Henry Grant, both colored, engaged in a quarrel over some very trifling matter at their matter at their boarding house in this city last Tuesday night. After words had lost all effect, Charles hurled a brick, he claims in self defense, at his antagonist who was approaching him with a drawn pistol. The brick went wide of its mark nearly demolishing a window. At that instant Henry fired the ball entering the shoulder of Mash and lodging somewhere under the collar bone. Dr. Dulin was called and dressed the wound. Grant immediately left and is supposed to have gone to Tennessee, his former home.—Earlington Bee.

UNION COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Union Local.]

The upper portion of the county presents a case of desertion that calls for the condemnation of all good people. Two years ago John Cleveland, of near Robinsonville, deserted his young wife near Paduch, Ky., whether they had moved. He was gone from her about six months. In the meantime she returned to her father's house near Hitesville. Coming home last spring, the truant husband persuaded the trusting wife to again live with him. During the past summer he raised a crop of corn and tobacco in the vicinity. Selling the tobacco before Christmas, he put the proceeds in his pocket, and during Christmas week, disposing of the corn, he deposited price of same in his private bank account, and without a word of warning to anybody, unexpectedly skipped the country, leaving her and the little child, as report says, without a bite of meat or ounce of bread, nor money to procure either.

We learn that a negro man was found down the O. V. railroad nearly frozen to death the first of the week, his feet and hands bursting open. He was brought to Morganfield and placed in the poor-house, where he soon died, and was buried by the county.

[From Sturgis Enterprise.]

The Methodists at Morganfield will build a new $10,000 church. Mart Wastin, a prominent farmer of the Bordley neighborhood and well known throughout the county died suddenly of pneumonia at Corydon last Saturday. His remains were interred at Bogley the Monday following. This makes the third death which has occurred in the family within the past few months.

Batler's Big Brain.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 17.—It is stated that an autopsy on the body of General Butler, previous to interment, showed that the cause of the death was caused by the bursting of a small blood vessel on the brain, caused by a violent fit of coughing. All the internal organs were found to be in excellent condition, and but for the accidental cause of his death he would probably have lived many years. His brain weighed four ounces more than that of Daniel Webster, which was one of the largest on record.

FIERY DEATH.

Six Persons Roasted Alive and Seventeen Others May Die.

St. Louis, Jan. 21.—A wreck, which in its consequences is one of the most appalling and disastrous that has happened in years, occurred at Alton Junction, Ill., this morning. The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Southwestern limited passenger train, consisting of an engine and four coaches, which left here this morning for the East, ran into an open switch half a mile north of Wann Junction, and crashed into a train consisting of seven tank cars standing thereon. The result was a fire, and afterward an explosion, which has already cost six persons their lives and probably fatally injured seventeen others, while fully fifty more are suffering from painful burns. The property loss to the company is great.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—Eleven additional deaths up to 6 o'clock is the record of the dual catastrophe at Alton Junction since midnight last night. Seventeen are now dead and the physicians say at least six others will die.

THE FRAUD OF '76.

How It Was Made Possible For Hayes to be President.

It has always been contended that Mr. Hayes was not rightfully elected President, but that he was seated by fraud. The Presidential election of 1876 occasioned one of the most critical disputes to which the working of our political institutions has ever given rise.

After the election it was found that the vote in Florida and South Carolina was very close and the result uncertain, and that in Louisiana, though the majority of the vote cast was unquestionably Democratic, the result might be reversed under the power of the State returning Board to throw out returns vitiated by alleged violence and fraud.

The Republican National Committee decided to adopt fraudulent means to promote the election of Republican electors, if fair means would not avail. A conspiracy was hatched in New York to throw out some of the Democratic votes in the three States in which the result of the election was in doubt and return Republican electors. As a result, in Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana two sets of certificates were issued and sent to Washington, one for the Republican electors. Previous to this a committee of Republicans had been sent to New Orleans to witness the canvass in the interest of a "fair" count. The Democratic National Committee also sent a committee there, among whom were John M. Palmer, Henry Watterson, Samuel J. Randall, Wm. R. Morrison, Oswald Oxtender, of New York, and Colonel J. O. Broadhead, of Missouri.

There was much dispute and contention over the returns, and many claims and protests. No agreement was reached, and after a stormy period of filibustering two sets of certificates were issued. There had been a controversy pending for some time in Congress in regard to the matter of counting and declaring the electoral votes of the several States, and the matter was still unsettled when the returns of Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana were presented to Congress. A joint committee of the two houses was created to devise a method for settling such disputes as might arise. Out of this was born the Electoral Commission. Five members of this commission were to be appointed by each house. The Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for the First, Third, Eighth and Ninth circuits were designated to act with them after agreeing upon a fifth Justice to be added to their number. In this way the commission was made up of Senators Edmunds, Morton, Frelinghuysen, Thurman and Bayard—three Republicans and two Democrats; Representatives Payne, Hutton, Abbott, Hoar and Garfield—three Democrats and two Republicans; and Justices Clifford, Field, Strong and Bradley, the last named being the one agreed upon by the others.

The Democrats who voted for the bill creating the electoral commission expected that David Davis of Illinois would be the fifth Justice on the Commission and the 15th and last chosen member of that body. Instead, Davis suddenly collected an ambition to go to the United States Senate, resigned his justiceship and became ineligible. It was then that Joseph Bradley of New Jersey became the balance of power. He was a Republican. The decisions of the contested returns were all in favor of the Republican claims by a vote of 8 to 7 and Hayes was declared elected. A word from Samuel J. Tilden at this time would have created a revolution, but Tilden was a patriot, as well as a statesman, and he refused to lend himself to violent measures. Hayes Cabinet consisted of Wm. M. Evans of New York, Secretary of State; John Sherman of Ohio, Secretary of the Treasury; George W. McCrary of Iowa, Secretary of War; Richard W. Thompson of Indiana, Secretary of the Navy; Carl Schurz of Missouri, Secretary of the Interior; David M. Key of Tennessee, Postmaster General, and Charles Devens of Massachusetts, Attorney General.

which tobacco, and horses and station, Kentucky is without a peer or rival.—Williamsburg Times.

FONDEST HOPES.

The Democratic commenting on the cold weather says that the Democrats won money enough to equip themselves with fur-lined overcoats appropriate to the season. And the paper might have added that before another winter rolls around these same Democrats would further shut out the cold by being snugly ensconced in quarters now held by the Republican office-holders.—Princeton Banner.

HOLD FAST TO WHAT YOU HAVE.

Too many good men are hankering after the flesh pots to allow one office to be used simply as a stepping-stone to a higher one. Mr. Brown is making a good Governor, and numerous friends who helped elect him are not only willing out would prefer that he should continue as Governor, at least for the present.—Georgetown Times.

IS THE SWEET BITE AND BITE.

The Nicholas Democrat asks the question, "Is the separate cash bill a dead letter?" Why, hell your old soul, it is not. Didn't you know the law doesn't go into effect until ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature? And if you can figure out just when that body will bring its business to a close, we will then tell you about when you may expect the law to be in effect.—Murray Ledger.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?

It is easier to "swear off" when you are drunk than when sober.—Sturgis Enterprise.

SUBSTANCE OF THE WHOLE THING.

Good roads cannot be constructed and maintained without expenditure of money, and the question first in order, how to raise the money. When this question is satisfactorily settled, the chief difficulty will be overcome.—Frankfort Capital.

NO POSTOFFICE PRIMARY.

The Aspirants Will not all Agree to Submit to It.

The much talked of primary election to select a postmaster at Marion will not materialize. It will not settle the matter, because all of the candidates will not agree to submit their claims to this mode. Last week an agreement was drawn up, pledging the candidates to submit their claims, fixing February 11 as the day, and further pledging the candidates to support for the place one receiving the highest number of votes. The paper was presented to the candidates as they were met, and the four first accepted readily signed the document. Then came a hitch, the fifth did not like this method and declined to attach his signature; the sixth did likewise, and then the effort ceased. Two or three of those not seen were ready to sign the paper, but the failure to get the signatures of all put an end to the plan. The fight will therefore go on until the powers at Washington select the fortunate man. The office at this place pays something like $800, and in addition to this Postmaster Coffield has succeeded in getting an allowance of $100 for clerk hire. Out of the gross proceeds must come an additional amount for clerk hire, house rent, fuel, lights, etc.

There is considerable complaint about the behavior of some of the young people at church. It is of people who have been raised better and know better, too. Yesterday there was talk of warrants. If there is a repetition of certain conduct, there will be some fines to pay by those folks who will be deeply mortified, and when the matter goes into court, the names are going into the paper too.

Attorney J. M. Werten, of Smithland, was in the city today enroute home from Cairo, where he had been in the interest of young Harvey Ramage, who is in jail there charged with the murder of Officer Henry Duncker, of that city, last fall. The case will come up for trial next month. Ramage is a native of Livingston county, his father now being a resident. He went to Cairo last fall in company with some friends and while Officer Duncker was attempting the arrest of a friend of Ramage, the latter deliberately shot and killed him.—Paducah News.

DAMAGE SUIT.

A Drummer Wants $5,000 from the Ohio Valley Railroad.

There will be filed in the Crittenden Circuit Court to-day a suit of J. H. Brunner, a St. Louis drummer, against the Ohio Valley Railroad, the plaintiff asking $5,000 damage from the defendant. Brunner boarded a train at Blackford to come to Nun's Switch; he claims that he could not get a ticket at Blackford, and conductor Brown refused to accept the amount of money tendered for the fare; when Brunner refused to pay more, he was ejected from the train, at a point about half way between the stations. He asks for $5,000.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Sallie Moore's - Whereabouts Still Unknown.

New York, Jan. 22.—No progress was made to-day toward solving the mystery of Miss Sallie Moore's disappearance on last Monday. Her sister, Mrs. Cornell, of 154 West One Hundred and Third street, at whose house the young Kentucky girl had been staying, said this evening that many persons had called during the day who thought they had seen the missing girl at various places during the week, but in every case save one these supposed clues have proved worthless.

The exception is a possible trace of Miss Moore furnished by a letter which the Cornells received yesterday. While they do not place much faith in it, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell are withholding the information the letter contained until they can investigate it to morrow, fearing that its publication in advance might frustrate their efforts if Miss Moore is, as they suppose, hiding from them in order to secure employment.

Mr. Cornell is contemplating increasing the reward which he now offers for tidings of his sister-in-law from $200 to $500.

The following advertisement offering for information concerning Miss Moore appears in the New York Herald:

INFORMATION WANTED OF THE whereabouts of the young lady who left her home, West 103d st., 16 inst., and did not return; last seen at Stern Bros.; who was dressed in a blue and black fine checked cloth dress, black jacket, black felt hat, trimmed with black feathers, black ribbon and jet ornament, black veil, brown kid gloves and wore a heart shaped breast pin, with moonstone center, surrounded by rubies; she was five feet six and a half inches tall, of full figure; weighing 135 lbs., $200 will be paid for full information. JANITOR, 133 West 103d.

Murder At a Party.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 23.—A terrible tragedy occurred in this county Saturday night. An old feud existed between Sam Burgess and three brothers named Wheelock. They met at a social gathering Saturday night; the three brothers attacked Burgess; he killed one, mortally wounded another, and put a bullet hole through the other hat.

Representative Summers Sick.

Representative J. R. Summers reached Marion this morning from Frankfort and left immediately in a buggy for his home in Livingston county. He is sick, and his condition is such that he is hardly able to travel.

A week ago he had a chill and has had fever since; his physicians advised him to come home, and fear that he will have typhoid fever. He is a strong Stone man, and left his proxy in Frankfort, and when the caucus comes on his vote will be counted for our congressman. As to a second choice Mr. Summers said that he left his vote sealed with instructions for it not to be opened until it became absolutely necessary to make a choice by Capt. Stone being out of the race. Nobody, he said, knows for whom that vote is.

Do You Want to Graduate?

On Friday Feb. 3, the board of school examiners will hold an examination in which all persons who desire to graduate in the common school branches may participate. The successful ones will be granted a diploma.

Another Constable.

The vacancies in the office of constable is being filled. Saturday Mr. F. M. Jacobs was appointed for Hurricane precinct. He qualified with Dr. I. H. Clement and Mr. J. C. Stephenson as his bondsmen. The county has four constables with three valuable vacancies to fill.

The Sheriff Takes Bonds.

Monday the Sheriff took the bond of Dempsey Station to appear at the next term of Circuit Court to answer the charge of cutting a tree across the public road; and the bond of John Imboden to answer the same court on the charge of cock fighting. Both were indicted at the last term of Circuit Court.

Want Quart Licenses.

Staten Bros., of Milford, in the extreme northwestern portion of the county, have notified the public that they will on Feb. 1, apply to the county court for merchants licenses to sell liquor by the quart. This firm has been handling liquor for some time at that point, and the application is for a renewal.

Will Apply for Licenses.

The revenue law requires distillers to procure from the county court a license before they are allowed to sell liquor by the quart. Messrs. F. E. Robertson & Co., the distillers at this place, have posted the regulation notice to the effect that they will on January 28, next Saturday, make application for license. The State taxes of this character of licenses is $50 per annum.

We Die to Live. Live to Die.

Mr. C. H. Kleiderer has started a well equipped dye house in Henderson, Ky., and if you or your friends have work of any description, either cleaning, dyeing, or repairing; would be glad if you would give him a trial; satisfaction guaranteed, and work done as cheaply as possible. For further information call on or address Mrs. F. W. Loving, Mariou, Ky., or C. H. Kleiderer, Henderson, Ky.

The Assessor Finishes.

Monday County Assessor McCaslin and his deputies completed the work of listing the property and polls of the county for a taxation. While the assessor has done no figuring, he is confident that the total amount of property listed for taxation this year will exceed, by several thousand dollars, the amount for last year. While the law exempts $250 worth of property of every house-keeper from taxation, the article heretofore not taxed will not only offset the exemption, but add considerably to the grand total.

A Small Blaze.

Just as Marion was getting out of bed Monday morning the bells sounded the fire alarm, and the bright blaze and curling smoke carried the half-awake citizens towards the handsome residence of Mr. A. J. Pickens. The residence was not afire, but the "smoke-house" but a few feet from the residence was ablaze. It burned to the ground; and it took close careful work to save the residence, and then it did not escape being damaged. The origin of the fire, which but for prompt work would have been a costly one, is not known.

Chopped His Hand Off.

Two or three days since an inmate of the Eddyville penitentiary, whose name could not be ascertained, deliberately took a hatchet, and placing one of his hands on a block, hacked it off, and coolly remarked afterward, "Now, let them make me work at that job." It seems that he did not like work, and was of a rather stubborn disposition, displaying a settled aversion, especially to the work he had been assigned to perform since his incarceration. As a consequence of his rash act, he is now suffering almost death in order to avoid work. After he recovers he will be subjected to some kind of punishment doubtless. The fellow was sent up from Graves county.—Paducah News.

Broke Jail.

A few night ago the prisoners in the Livingston county jail succeeded in escaping by sawing iron bars, and tunneling through the wall. They were not out long until the escape had been discovered, and several of the fugitives were captured. Those who were still at large at last accounts were Tom Crutchfield, charged with detaining a woman against her will. E. A. Nuckols, colored, charged with murdering his wife. A man named Fields, charged with leading a riot at Grand Rivers. John Hildinger, who murdered the 2-year-old child of his mistress at New Landing, and was captured.

MUST CLOSE ON SUNDAY.

World's Fair People get Into Trouble by Talking too Much.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Some of the Chicago people have been foolish enough to boast around the Capitol that if Congress does not amend the World's Fair bill so as to allow that institution to be open on Sundays it would be kept open anyway. Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota evidently heard of this threat. He introduced in the Senate to-day a bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to suspend the issue of souvenir coins to the World's Fair folks and not to resume it until a proper and acceptable bond had been filed with the Secretary of the Treasury that the law in regard to Sunday closing would be obeyed. This bond is to be for $2,500,000, and it is to be forfeited if the Fair should be kept open on Sunday in defiance of legislation now on the statute books prohibiting it.

A bill of similar purport was introduced in the House by Representative Ketchum, making it the duty of the Attorney General to sue and collect such bond on his ascertaining that the law has been violated.

Will be Buried and Resurrected.

Prof. Andrew F. Seymour, of Rockford, Ill., a mind reader, has begun preparations for a feat he proposes to accomplish next summer. He will, June 2, throw himself into a state of insensibility and will be buried. The grave is to be watched by a committee, day and night, while a crop of barley is sowed, ripened and harvested over it. Mr. Seymour will then be disinterred and will return to life. His feat, it is claimed, has been performed by the fakirs of India under conditions that prevented imposition, and Mr. Seymour says he has such control over his mind and nervous system that he is confident he can perform the act.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Miners Want to Share the Profits.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—Now that the coal operators have taken advantage of the condition of the Ohio River to advance the price of Kentucky coal 600 miners in Ohio county have struck for more wages. They are employed in the Bender, McHenry, Echols, Tylor and Williams mines. The men, since coal has advanced $1.50 per ton in the past week, demand an increase of half a cent per bushel for piece workers and an advance of 10 per cent for all day laborers. The McHenry Coal Company this afternoon acceded to the demands, but the other mines have not resumed operations. There is danger of the strike spreading all over the State, especially as there seems to have been no valid reason for raising the price of coal, and as there is great danger of a famine of Pittsburgh coal. Owners of the millions of the millions of bushels of the Pumpkin Patch have given up hope and fear great losses.

Teach Girls How to Use Money.

Would it not be wise in some exercises in the mysteries of money were added to the curriculum of every girl's studies? A boy finds it all out by actual contact with the public as soon as he is out and a part of it; but a girl may become a mature woman, shrinking then through the habit of long protection, and be thrown on the mercies of the world with her money to fall the prey to the first cheat and chosen. She is a taught at school the spectra of the stars, and the map of Mars; what pity that she should not be instructed in the workings of life on the planet where she lives! That a knowledge of the nature and meaning and cure of money should be made a care of every girl's education is growing more and more evident in this age of enlargement and prosperity, which puts money into the hands of so many women. And in the coming century, the woman's century, as it is already called, in which so many women will be workers and earners of money, it is all the more important, in order that they may be neither handicapped nor too far outstripped, that they should be well instructed as to business movements and investments, that they may be directed in the right way before they set out to earn.

It is said that his success in various enterprises is making Secretary of War Elkins one of the wealthiest men of the country.

The home life of H. Rider Haggard is beautiful in its simplicity and genuineness.—The day opens with family prayers, which are read with gentle reverence by the master of the house in the large square entrance hall.

THE SEASON'S SNAKE YARN.

Colorado Is Finding Petrified Reptiles Twenty-Four Feet in Length.

Cannon City, Colo. 21.—One of the most startling finds ever made in this section was unearthed to-day at Rockvale, a small mining camp nine miles northeast of here. The Santa Fe Coal Company was excavating in the bottom of a gulch, when a peculiar formation was run into. The strange thing was found to be a perfectly formed snake, 12 feet in length. This find caused so much excitement that the excavation was continued, and at a little distance another reptile was uncovered, and on being dug out was found to be 24 feet in length and as thick through as a man's body and perfectly petrified, and there is no telling how many of the monsters will be found. Three have already been taken out and will make part of the States' exhibit at the World's Fair.

FIGS AND THISTLES.

"Whatever is not faith is sin." Deadly poisons are sometimes very sweet.

We please God most when we trust Him most.

As a cloak, religion can not keep anybody warm.

The sinners on the front seats are the hardest to hit.

"The bread we take from God's hand is always the sweetest."

The best preaching is not always done in the finest churches.

Nobody else looks just right to the man who wears blue "spies."

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk," but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anemic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Borne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.
